

Aid China Or "Pay," U. S. Told

WASHINGTON, March 4 (UP)—Lieut. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, former commander of American troops in China, said today the United States "will pay in blood" unless steps are taken now to halt the march of communism.

Wedemeyer said that American economic assistance to other nations must be backed by military aid if the "vast movement" of communism is to be stopped.

Urges Arms Aid

Specifically, he urged Congress to supply military aid to the Chinese government to the stricken Chinese nation.

Wedemeyer said that the house foreign affairs committee on the administration request for $50,000,000 for economic aid to China, Wedemeyer broke sharply with Secy. of State George C. Marshall over the question of military aid. He said that he was a personal admirer of Marshall but that "we apparently have an honest difference of opinion" over military assistance.

"Dollars And Cents" Help

"I don't think dollars alone will do it," Wedemeyer said. "I predict that if we don't take appropriate steps to stop this communist movement we are going to pay in blood."

Wedemeyer told the committee he did not consider American military participation in the Chinese struggle necessary at this time. But, he added, the U. S. should supply the national government with military aid.

Rep. Walter H. Judd, R., Minn., wanted to know whether American officials could work successfully with the Chinese.

Wedemeyer replied that it sometimes was difficult. He said the Chinese often went through several routes in arriving at a given goal but that their ultimate aims were with the American people.

"Then you think the Chinese leaders are trying to achieve desirable ends for their people?" Judd asked.

"I definitely do," he replied.

Local Kiwanis Club Initiates Largest Class

A class of 14 local business and professional men—described by Bill Bowers, mayor of the Idaho capital, as the "largest class" in the history of the Kiwanis organization—was taken into the local club at a luncheon session Thursday at the Park hotel.

Featuring an all-Kiwanis program, the installation of the new members was in honor of the governor on the occasion of his visit in honor of Marvin Carlson, Bill, lieutenant governor.

Moffet reported to the new class members as "hand picked" from the ranks of the community. He described the Kiwanis movement as "the only organization I know of that can take me into the heart of it, in satisfaction, then you put into it."

The governor and the lieutenant governor, who spoke briefly, were introduced by O. P. Duvall, chairman of the Kiwanis education committee.

Duvall also introduced past president of the local club, who said to the speaker's table. They were: Stephen, Alvin Gray, Fred Meacham, Ernest Geyer, Clifford Smith, H. H. Hedstrom, Wilbur H. N. Terry, R. J. Schwendman, Ernest Geyer, Clifford Smith, Pratt and C. H. Jackson. Duvall is also a past president.

New members welcomed were Louis Melia, John Peterson, Irvin Bowers, James W. Creed, Joe McCann, Lewis Black, Fred Brown, Jr. and Fred Kolczak, Jr. (Continued on page 8, column 2)

"Hunger-Striking" Reds Are Moved

NEW YORK, March 4 (UP)—Four alleged communist agents on a hunger strike on Ellis island were being moved today to the marine hospital on the island, the American Commission on Protection of Foreign Born announced.

W. Frank Watkins, district director of Immigration, had no comment.

The four are Gerhard Eisler, described as the No. 1 communist in this country; Ferdinand Smith, Negro secretary of the CIO National Committee; John Williamson, assistant secretary of the CIO; and Charles Doyle, vice president of the CIO United Auto, Coke and Chemical Workers.

The four, awaiting deportation proceedings, declared a boycott on food Monday in aid for release on bail pending hearings.

West Europe Union Talked By 5 Nations

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 4 (UP)—Five nations commenced talks today at a suggested Western European union to stem communist expansion. Representatives of Great Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg met at the foreign affairs ministry. The deliberations were closed to the press.

Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian premier and foreign minister, opened the conference. He welcomed the delegates and said he hoped their discussions would result in a successful conclusion of a five-power agreement.

The states called to study the idea of a treaty and alliance to stop the spread of communism, newly established in Czechoslovakia and feared in Finland.

The delegates were reported to have agreed to proceed with a meeting during the absence of Gladwyn Jebb, second British delegate. The absence was due to illness. A deputy to the British foreign secretary, was delayed in London by a plane crash.

The Benelux countries submitted a draft agreement at the first session.

"The draft was studied and revealed great similarity of views on the principles discussed by the five powers," the communiqué said.

The five-power talks were postponed until Friday afternoon to await the arrival of the French and British delegates to make a further study of the Benelux proposals.

Car Union Tells Own Party Aim

CHICAGO, March 4 (UP)—The executive board of the CIO United Auto Workers turned its thumbs down today on Henry Wallace and said it would form its own third party after the November elections.

The board, holding its quarterly meeting here this week, said Wallace's third-party movement is "a communist party maneuver" designed to advance the foreign policy interest of the Soviet Union.

Seeks Interested Groups

It urged all groups "honestly committed to winning economic security and abundance" to join in forming "a genuine progressive party" after this year's election.

The board adopted a resolution fully supporting the position of the national CIO in rejecting and repudiating the 1948 presidential candidacy of Henry A. Wallace.

It denounced the Wallace group as "a political maneuver contrary to the best interests of labor and the people."

Condon Asks End of 'Constant Harassings'

WASHINGTON, March 4 (UP)—Dr. Edward U. Condon asked the congressional committee on atomic energy today to save government scientists from being "constantly harassed and harried by irresponsible attacks on their character."

Condon, who heads the national bureau of standards, asked the atomic committee to investigate the charges of the house un-American activities committee that his loyalty is questionable.

"The whole scientific life of the nation is involved," Condon said in letters to Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R., Ia., and other members of the atomic energy committee.

Wheat Price Jump Hits Ceiling, Then Slips Near Closing

CHICAGO, March 4 (UP)—May wheat shot upward the full 10-cent limit on the Chicago board of trade today after Secy. of Agriculture Clinton Anderson announced the government was on its way back into the market.

In later trading, however, wheat prices dropped off as dealers sold for profit. Closing price for May wheat was $2.48 1/2 to $2.49, up 2 1/2 to 6 1/2 higher.

May wheat at Minneapolis also rose the full 10 cents a bushel in trading today. At Kansas City, it was within 1 cent of the limit increase for a single day.

Anderson announced late yesterday the government is going to "float" the way back into the grain market by buying four for export. The government "has bought" no wheat on four since prices broke a month ago today.

Anderson said at a news conference he has invited flour millers to submit offers to sell flour to the government equivalent to 9,300,000 bushels of wheat.

Anderson also said the government plans to export 9,000,000 bushels of wheat this week.

Anderson said that the grain market showed that retail prices of most basic foods have stopped dropping, and that the grain market has recovered as much as 50 per cent of the loss it took in the big price break which began in January.

On the Chicago board of trade today, wheat was up 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents a bushel and oats rose 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents to 2 1/2 cents.

Hot prices were steady with yesterday's lower prices at the opening of trading at Chicago today. At St. Louis, wheat was up 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents and oats rose 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents.

Vandenberg Fighting ERP 'Alliance' Plan

WASHINGTON, March 4 (UP)—Senate Pres. Arthur H. Vandenberg today fought off efforts of a Republican bloc to saddle the European recovery program with an out-right military alliance against Russia.

There were indications the proposal would not muster enough votes to pass but it nevertheless promised to enliven debate on the $5,000,000,000 ERP bill.

Republican Whip Kenneth S. Wherry told reporters the military alliance was necessary. Through use of the Soviet's veto power, he said, "the United Nations isn't working and the sooner we know it and get out of it the better."

The controversy raged around an ERP amendment backed by Wherry, Sen. Charles McNary, R., Ind., and several other Republicans. It was described by its authors as an effort to stop, by military force if necessary, the Russian threat of aggression.

Proposal Seeks Alliance

Under the proposal, the U. S. would seek to establish outline of the U.N. an alliance of states willing to act against "aggression or subversion" on the majority vote of a supreme council. No one big nation would have a veto.

Vandenberg was known to believe that such a step would be fatal to the self-help economic recovery program for western Europe, and perhaps jeopardize the future of the U.S. as well.

5-State Alarm Sent for Utah Whisky Theft

SALT LAKE CITY, March 4 (UP)—A five-state alarm has been sent out by Salt Lake City police in connection with the $10,000-liquor theft here Tuesday morning, detectives announced today.

The liquor control commission estimated that some 300 cases of whisky, all but 45 cases of it bottled-in-bond potatoes, had been stolen in the burglary. First estimates were that between 150 and 200 cases were missing.

Detective Lieut. M. D. McGonnes said that he had asked five neighbors that he was on the lookout for the liquor, which, he said, must sooner or later be brought out for sale.

The burglars backed a truck up to the Brigham Street pharmacy Tuesday morning and entered the store. They turned off the burglar alarm and then quietly went about the business of taking out the whisky.

McGonnes said that the whisky probably would be offered for sale in one of the western states. "When it is," McGonnes said, "these officers can spot it immediately. It all has Utah liquor stamps and all cases are plainly marked for the Utah liquor commission."

The U. S. mist was established by act of congress April 2, 1922.

Hunt Settlers Cited in Plea On Loan Aid

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Among Idaho's pressing needs, says Rep. Shober, R. Ida., are adequate loans for prospective settlers.

He appeared before the House agriculture subcommittee considering the agriculture department budget for the year beginning next July 1, to urge an increase in the appropriations for the farmers home administration.

"I can tell you from first hand information," he told the committee, "that the veterans on the Black Canyon and Hunt reclamation projects in Idaho are suffering because funds for loans are not available. To further the development of new land projects and insure stability of the farmer on these projects, I urge approval of an increase in this item."

$11,000,000 Recommended

President Truman recommended $11,000,000 for this agency, compared with $7,000,000 appropriated for the present year.

He also urged favorable committee consideration for these other activities among those of great interest to Idaho:

Agricultural research—"The extensive outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Missouri is a definite threat to the livestock industry and our entire economy."

Rangeland Management—"It is imperative to prevent further liquidation of the livestock industry to maintain the large and valuable state lands for range improvement on the national forests."

Forest range management—"Much mature and over-mature timber is not accessible and should be removed to leave the fire hazard and permit the growth of new trees. I would consider it a good investment to obtain land needed to alleviate our present housing shortage."

Such conservation, "I believe it would be better for the state to use expert technical service and control, if not immediate entry, incentive payments to farmers."

Half of U.S. Real Estate Loans Go To West Region

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4 (AP)—More than half the real estate loans made by federal reserve banks in the nation's leading cities are concentrated in seven far western states.

The volume of these loans announced weekly by the federal reserve system, reflects the heavy population of the far west. The seven states are Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington. They form the fifth federal reserve district.

During the week ended Feb. 25, the national total was $2,853,000,000. The 12th district total was $1,829,000,000. Both were new record highs.

These loans have been expanding for many months.

The increase this past year is 22 per cent in Spokane and 16 per cent at Salt Lake City.

Rolling off the assembly line in London, these new British potato harvesters do the day's work of a gang of 50 skilled men and are being produced on a large scale after successful trials. Invented by Percival Packman, the picker is operated by three men and easily digs 60 tons of spuds in eight hours.

House Page Boys' Small Talk As Big as Tall Talk of Elders

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—It was 10:30 in the morning, an hour and a half before the house of representatives would be rapped to order.

Down on the floor, a couple dozen boys were playing congressman. One boy, with flaming red hair and a face full of freckles, sat with his feet draped over the seat in front of him. He thumbed his vest and blew a bubble toward the ceiling.

"Now you take the Marshall plan," he said with that worldly look. "We got to take care of those folks over there. What do you want to see, Charlie? World war III? You'd be sure for it, Cannon fodder."

"Oh, I don't know," his companion argued. "We ought to do first things first and take care of our own people. This is an election year, you know, Ted."

Other groups of boys were hunched elsewhere about the house floor, taking the world apart and putting it back together again with small talk.

A front page story that ice cream is being high-priced off the market in Washington got a rough going over, and so did the question of rent control. Likewise the coming political campaign. The pencils on the house speaker's desk were lined up, the place was spick and span and the big shots weren't home. It was time for a little fun. In short, the page boys pre-occupation Jordan was under way, as it is about that time every day.

Fifty of the kids, each with the bleasing and recommendation of a congressman, make up the most exclusive office boys' club in the world.

They range in age from 16 to 19. And their take-home pay, after taxes, is $10 a month. They have to pay for their uniforms—dark blue serge suits, with black shoes and ties, which they are wearing in the 80th session for the first time.

They used to show up in any old thing. Then one day, one of the western kids appeared wearing a bright red jacket, looking like a cowpoke. He caused quite a commotion. The house had hearings and heard that some of the 19-year-old boys looked too much like freshmen congressmen for comfort. For the comfort of freshmen congressmen, that is. So a law was passed. Uniforms.

Many of the boys who fill the ink wells and run the errands, incidentally, have political ambitions themselves. Across the years, a lot of their predecessors in page boy jobs have grown up to be congressmen.

The committee gave its approval late yesterday.

Czech Press Hints 3 Have Fled Country

PRAGUE, March 4 (AP)—The Communist press hinted today that former Health Minister Adolf Prochazka, his wife and an anti-communist student leader have fled Czechoslovakia, but mystery surrounded their whereabouts.

Milada, 19, the minister's daughter, is under arrest after an unsuccessful attempt to escape from the country.

First Flight Notice

Mlada Fronta, a communist newspaper, said the Prochazkas and student leader Emil Ransdorf escaped across the border. It was the first time the communist press reported that Czechs were fleeing across the frontier.

Rude Pravo, the official communist newspaper, reported the Prochazkas "attempted" escape, but gave no details.

Other reports, all unconfirmed, said the three were captured or were across the border in the U. S. occupation zone of Germany.

Press Convolving

The ministry of information announced Pres. Edward Benes is convalescing at his country home in Semtovo Usti, southern Bohemia, and will not return to Prague this week, as scheduled.

Prochazka is one of the ministers singled out by communist Premier Klement Gottwald as "an agent of foreign reaction."

The press also carried an account of the sentencing of two army officers "for the crime of military treason." Capt. Josef Kraska was sentenced to 10 years in prison and Lieut. Ivan Popovic to four months.

IDAHO FALLS, March 4 (AP)—The Sunday opening of retail grocery stores in Idaho Falls was protested yesterday by Mayor E. W. Fanning and several church groups.

At present, one Idaho Falls grocery store remains open all day Sunday and many neighborhood stores open for an hour or two on the sabbath.

Vernon Johnson, representing the three Idaho Falls stakes of the LDS church, and the Rev. Leroy Johnson, representing the Idaho Falls Ministerial association, joined Fanning in protesting the opening.

Woman Sued for Giving Child Her Ex-Mate's Name

Action for the alleged misuse of a surname was filed by John Palat, Jr., against his former wife, Carol Oline, her daughter, Elizabeth DeAnn Palat, and the Idaho state department of vital statistics in district court Wednesday.

In his petition, Palat claims that after his divorce from Mrs. Oline in 1946, she remarried and had a child, Elizabeth DeAnn, and then gave the child his surname, Palat.

Through this action, which Palat claims was without warrant, he further alleges that he has suffered personal humiliation.

He asks the court for an injunction, restraining further use of his name, the correction of the surname on the birth certificate and in the records of the bureau of vital statistics.

A request for an equitable settlement, to cover the extent of the injury, is also requested.

Approval by the rules committee means the bill probably will come before the House of representatives next week. The House is expected to approve the program.

The senate already has passed a similar measure.

Analyst Views Military Move In "Cold War"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associate Editor

The further we go with this "cold war" between the bolsheviks and the democrats, the more apparent it becomes that we are engaged not merely in an ideological conflict but in down-right military operations.

Your columnist is a student of the "cold war" and he is not at all sure that we are on the verge of another global upheaval. I don't believe a shooting war is ahead of us, although there are enough warlike elements being tossed about in the world that they should combine.

Both "Maneuvering"

What's happening, however, is that the sides are maneuvering for strategic military positions. The reds seek advantage in their further their cold-war for the spread of communism, that is, the expansion of the Soviet empire. The democrats are trying to block the red advance, by the way, in which this communists are employing strong-arm methods which border dangerously on the military.

Take Wednesday's developments for example. Secretary of State Marshall—one of the world's outstanding military strategists—and Secretary of Defense Forrestal appeared before the house foreign affairs committee to urge further military aid to Turkey and Greece. They declared there is grave danger that communism can remain free unless they get more assistance.

Two Expansion Routes
There are two possible ways in which European Russia might expand its area of domination. One is westward toward the English channel. The other is southward, perhaps through Iran but also down the Balkan peninsula through Turkey and into the middle east, thereby securing the Dardanelles and achieving Russia's old ambition of becoming a Mediterranean power.

The westward advance is halted along the so-called Stettin-Adriatic line through central Europe.

Thus we see the force of the argument that Greece and Turkey must be provided with the wherewithal to defend themselves. It can be done, and if that Stettin-Adriatic line across Europe can be held, the bolshevik advance will be blocked in Europe.

Which reminds me that America's front line defenses are in Europe.

Women Can't Recognize Joke—Especially When About Hats

By JAMES C. ANDERSON
SAN MARINO, Calif., March 4 (AP)—

—While most men know a woman when they see one. Especially not when the joke is a hat.

That's what a local hardware store manager, Al Colby, says.

For 35 years, Colby starred in popular amusement at the conceptions were by his women customers. Finally, he could stand it no longer and designed a batch of hats, he said, that'll make women laugh at themselves when they see how silly they look with a $10 thingamabob made out of a couple of pieces of felt and a doo-dad or two perched on top of their head.

So Colby, who never before got closer to a woman's hat shop than to pay the cashier at Mrs. C. E. Colby's, out the door with a new lid, sat down and whipped up 18 "guaranteed original" models.

He made 'em entirely out of stuff in his hardware store.

In his "labor of laughs" went pieces of stove pipe, door handles, toilet brushes, mops, plastic bowls, flower pots, sponges, bread rolls, brushes, resorted combs, measuring spoons, beaters, clothes pin bags, muffin baskets, aluminum jelly molds, dish rags, ash shovels, copper pails and assorted nuts, bolts and screws.

Then he put them in a window display in his store and settled back to watch the women laugh.

So what happened? Women flocked from miles around to "oh" and "ah" and exclaim "Isn't that just too, too?"

Women knocking the sidewalk in front of Wilson's hardware store to admire Colby's hats outnumbered those going into the store and down the street, to gaze at $75 Paris originals.

ISC Adjustments Called Completed

POCATELLO, March 4 (AP)—Major adjustments to four-year statute were overdone in the one year since Idaho State college became a degree-granting institution, Dr. Carl W. McIntosh, president, reported yesterday.

McIntosh spoke during the school's first anniversary convocation. He outlined adjustments undertaken since the legislature passed the bill that established ISC as a liberal arts college. Addition of faculty members, expanding the curriculum and the physical plant and adapting student activities to the new setup were achieved and further progress has been steady, McIntosh declared.

In 1927, McIntosh said enrollment was 400. In 30 years enrollment increased to 1,760.

Several hundred visitors toured the campus and visited the newly opened 120 museum which featured an exhibition of student and faculty art.

As early as 1830, settlers were caused in Baltimore and shipped by wagon to Pocatello.

New Refinery

BRAWLEY, Calif., March 4 (AP)—The Holly Sugar corporation will open a $10,000,000 refinery and four miles south of Brawley on April 20, Robert C. Brown, agricultural director for the project, said today.

The refinery will handle 250,000 tons of beet in the year Brown estimated. The Imperial valley sugar beet crop is valued at $10,000,000.

CIO Opposes Editorializing Plan on Radio

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—On grounds that radio is "big business" and would reflect the views of industry, the CIO today opposed letting radio stations editorialize on the air.

William F. Fleisher, assistant CIO director of publicity, told the federal communications commission that the unions have had "endless trouble" buying radio time for their views. He said that "makes us skeptical of the commission's plan."

The commission is holding hearings on whether to reverse a 7-year-old rule which forbids networks or stations to take sides in political matters of controversy. It has received conflicting advice from various sources.

"Radio stations have demonstrated that they are in business to make money," Fleisher said. "Editorial positions cannot be expected to arise far from that principle."

The CIO official argued that letting stations editorialize would be a "dangerous" step toward letting monopoly over the transmission of ideas to the American people.

The threat, he testified, grows out of the "increasing dominance of radio facilities" by newspapers.

Pocatello Hospital Bonds Suit Filed

POCATELLO, March 4 (AP)—Opponents of the $1,000,000 Pocatello hospital project filed their third action yesterday in an effort to prevent issuance of the bonds.

Last month the Idaho supreme court ruled that the city government could issue bonds for the hospital.

In the latest court action, a complaint was filed charging that 2,002 of the signatures on petitions for the 1946 bond election, which was approved by voters, were not qualified electors and taxpayers.

15 Years Ago Today Tradition-Buster FDR Began Rule by Busting Tradition

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Fifteen years ago today tradition-buster Franklin D. Roosevelt started his presidential career by smashing a tradition.

When Chief Justice Hughes read the presidential oath of office, Roosevelt did not follow with the usual phrase-by-phrase repetition of the oath. He waited until Hughes had finished and then repeated the entire 35-word pledge in one unbroken statement.

Four presidents-elect have learned the full text of the oath. Roosevelt was all set with it, the words rolling out in the resonant tones which marked his public utterances.

Then, in an effort to bolster the spirit of a nation with a bad case of the hard-limes jitters, he launched into a confidence-stuttered inaugural speech.

"So, first of all," he said, "let me assure my firm belief that the only thing we have to fear is fear itself." Pledging government action to "first things first," he said:

"I shall ask the congress for broad executive power as great as the power that would be given me if we were, in fact, invaded by a foreign foe."

Next day he closed the nation's banks until they could be reopened on a sounder footing. Then he called congress into special session for emergency action.

Eight days after his inauguration Roosevelt began the series of firsts which delighted his friends, exasperated his enemies and impressed multitudes of voters.

"My friends," he said, "I am not a loud speaker all over the country. His political showmanship was modified attention on him as the leader, not of a party so much, as of a nation.

The first first-aid radio talk was on the bank-closing crisis. He started off:

"My friends, I want to talk with the people of the United States about banking. I want to tell you what has been done in the last few days, and why it was done, and what the next steps are going to be."

In 10 months he made 30 radio talks, a record-setting performance for a chief executive.

During his famous "100 days" congress swiftly moved into legislation. Roosevelt almost completely to his order. He bombarded congress with messages. Revolutionary economic measures sometimes swept through both houses in a single day.

To aid an estimated 12,000,000 unemployed, congress approved a $3,700,000,000 public works program. A fund of $500,000,000 was voted for states which matched federal money in furnishing food and shelter for the needy.

Other billions were voted to help families distressed with loss of homes and farms by mortgage foreclosure. A crop control program, conservation corps, for farmer participation, was aimed at curtailing production and boosting prices for farm products.

The president was authorized to manage the national currency with wide inflationary powers. He took the country off the gold standard.

Congress created the civilian conservation corps, restored two cent postage, passed a securities regulation bill to protect investors and

France, Italy Plan For Custom Union

PARIS, March 4 (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault will go to Turin shortly to sign an agreement for negotiation of a customs union between France and Italy, the foreign office announced today.

Bidault will meet Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Einaudi in Turin, it was announced.

No agreement has yet been worked out on a customs union, a foreign office spokesman said, but Bidault and Einaudi will sign a protocol stating the two countries are agreed on the desirability of a customs union. The protocol will instruct the foreign ministers' deputies to work out details for a formal treaty.

No definite date was set for the meeting of Bidault and Einaudi.

Landlady Sues For Recording Private Matter

ATLANTA, March 4 (AP)—A landlady accused a tenant of bathroom and bedroom snooping with a microphone in Fulton (Atlanta) civil court.

Mrs. E. M. Shepherd told Judge Quincy Arnold yesterday that E. H. Richardson, a tenant, not only recorded her most intimate conversations in bathroom, bedroom and living room, but played the recordings to his family.

The recordings were made, Mrs. Shepherd told the court, by means of a microphone dropped down a hot air duct.

Richardson denied the charge. He said his landlady was provoked because he and other tenants objected to an extra $100 assessment for heat.

Arnold ordered Richardson held for $100 bond for criminal court for violation of the "Peeping Tom" law.

Floral Cake Typifies Easter

This attractive Easter cake is shaped like a basket and topped by a cluster of fresh floral blossoms. Candy Easter eggs are suggested as another idea for ornamentation of the cake.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Nash Staff Writer

Here's a beautiful Easter cake. Bake the batter in oval pans. Add eggs, remaining milk, and vanilla and beat 1 minute longer. (Mix cake by hand or at low speed of electric mixer. Count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow about 150 full strokes per minute. Scrape bowl and spoon often while mixing.) Turn batter into two 9-inch layer pans which have been lined on bottom with paper, then greased. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Let cool. Spread frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. While frosting is still wet, sprinkle top and sides with shredded coconut. To tint the coconut, sprinkle about 1/4 cup of blue food coloring in a small amount of water, sprinkle over coconut, then rub evenly through coconut.

Happy Easter Cake

Two and one-quarter cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup shortening, milk with butter, margarine or lard, use 1 cup milk minus 2 tablespoons, with vegetable or any other shortening, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, unbeat, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup shredded coconut.

Sift flour once, measure into sifter with baking powder, salt and sugar. Have shortening at room temperature, stir just to soften.

Golden Wedding Wife Is Honored At Dorcas Fete

HAAGERMAN, March 4.—Mrs. Mary Wood, whose golden wedding anniversary occurred on Feb. 23, was honored with a party at the regular meeting of the Dorcas club.

The gathering met at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. W. M. Van Wagoner. Mrs. Wood was greeted with a corsage of white carnations and a cake with a golden ribbon. Sandra Thomas, granddaughter of the honored woman, presented her with a vital of "golden promise" perfume.

Mrs. C. S. Gartin, president, called the meeting to order and conducted the business. Mrs. D. A. Patterson gave the program and read an article concerning the influence that the mother of George Washington had on his life.

It was decided by the group that they assist in a food sale for the church every two months. Pledge cards were sent then to Anna Felt in Japan.

Roll call was answered by the members telling about their wedding. Mrs. Wood gave her account, first, telling of her wedding at Silver, Neb., and pointing out that she had been four girls dressed in the immediate Wood family.

Mrs. J. D. Claiborn played a medley of southern melodies and the group sang "Old Gray Banner." Don Kilburn, accompanied by Mrs. Wood, sang "I Never Knew" and "Nephele Nights," and Mrs. A. A. Gartin sang "I'm a Soldier's Girl." A cleverly worded tribute to the honoree was read by Mrs. J. B. McChesney and Mrs. Van Houten. Mrs. Gartin and Mrs. Swearingen read poems.

Mrs. Wood was presented a book of poems and a bouquet of jonquils and scilla, and received a potted plant from her Sunday school class.

The refreshment table was covered with a hand-drawn linen cloth almost 100 years old. It was centered with a gold and white decorated wedding cake flanked by white paper napkins, silver salt and pepper shakers with huckleberry and scilla. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. A. Gartin, Mrs. J. C. Fox and Mary Gilling.

Benes Won't Remain Long, Analyst Says

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Whether or not Edward Benes has resigned already, it is obvious that he will not remain long as Czechoslovak president.

First, he is ill, and had been expected to seek relief after this spring's elections anyway. Secondly, he would not remain as a puppet without any ability to stand between his people and the totalitarianism. Czechs abroad are inclined to give him credit for having done his best on that latter point, and now expect him to retire, or to attempt an escape.

Czechs who now consider themselves called, however, refer bitterly to Jan Masaryk's continuance in the communist-controlled government, even though he may believe he still is capable of influencing it. They think the loan of his father's name is far more valuable to the new dictatorship than anything he can hope to do against it.

As a matter of fact, they had urged that Benes leave the country, and that Masaryk not return after attending the last U. N. general assembly meeting in New York. They saw the coup was coming, despite their public statements that "we cooperate loyally with Russia, and there is no point in their taking us over completely."

Benes may hesitate to step out now because of the belief that the communists will use Czechoslovakia as his successor.

Fierlinger, leader of the pre-communist wing of Czech socialists, was once ousted by his party for real collaboration. He returned to a place of authority with the communists, until they were ready to put him in the past. The patriots consider him the Pierre Laval of Czechoslovakia. They dislike him the more because they consider him a communist who hides it.

Ex-Embassy to Moscow
Fierlinger gained favor with the Soviets when he was Czech ambassador to Moscow. They considered him a first premier in postwar Czechoslovakia, until they were ready to put him in the past. The patriots consider him the Pierre Laval of Czechoslovakia. They dislike him the more because they consider him a communist who hides it.

Fierlinger played a major role in the negotiations at Moscow and Koenigsberg, when Benes was forced to return to the country for the purpose of setting up a government at all, that it would safeguard practical collaboration with the USSR, military, political, and economic and cultural.

In one line with other Slav and democratic countries.
Benes apparently believed (and it may as well be remembered that the American government then believed likewise) that you can do business with Russia. At any rate, Munich had taught him that he could not depend on the western powers.

But Benes and all the Czechs know now that it was at Koenigsberg and Moscow that Fierlinger and Gottwald forged the chains with which to shackle Czechoslovakia.

SOUTHERN IDAHO COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, Albion, March 4—The Junior primary department, designed for pupils 5 years old, has been reestablished at the Southern Idaho College of Education following a war time lapse.

Under the direction of Laura Mae Bourg, the department is the only pre-school teacher training course in southern Idaho. Students majoring in primary education have an opportunity to serve as student teachers handling the Junior primary class.

The program is more advanced than regular kindergarten classes as it offers a foundation for reading. Children participating in the Street Plans Protested by Burley Group

BURLEY, March 4—A delegation from the Burley Chamber of Commerce attended the city council meeting here this week to protest the proposed ordinance to re-number the streets of Burley.

An ordinance drawn by City Attorney Kales Lowe was read for the first time calling for the re-numbering of streets, starting with the north end of the city and running south.

Eight building permits were granted at the meeting, the largest for the construction of a $20,000 two-story business building by F. M. Thornton, to replace the Burley meat market building. One other permit calls for construction of a $10,000 apartment house on South Overland by Mrs. J. A. Pitts.

Vern Mitchell, councilman in charge of the fire department, announced the employment of two new drivers, Jake Hodge and Newman Peterson, replacing Joe Havelock, Fred Kruger and Merlin Anderson. One other driver will be appointed soon.

City Clerk Norman Smith announced that the city would again resume the tree planting program started in 1943. The plan is to have the same variety of trees on each street. The city will furnish trees to property owners and orders may be left with the city clerk. Two trees will be planted in parking strips for each city block.

New Chinese Army Morale Called 'High'

By FRED HAMPTON

PINGTUNG, Formosa, March 4 (AP)—The Chinese army and its U. S. advisers are turning out soldiers here—well-drilled troops who look like they can fight.

On a quiet visit to this new government training base on southern Formosa, I found a morale which in sharp contrast to the weariness and indifference of the nationalist troops usually seen in China.

The program is turning out a better fighting man than those who now bear arms for the government on the civil war battlefield.

The trainees look healthy, and happy. Above all they seem to be enjoying the job.

"They say a Chinese soldier properly trained is as good as any in the world. One can believe it after seeing the trainees work out on the warm drill grounds and ranges of Pingtung."

I was watching a bayonet drill. A U. S. sergeant who fought in France and Germany was standing nearby looking on.

"Most Chinese soldiers," he observed, "don't look to me like they could fight a lick. But these guys look like they could fight plenty."

In any evaluation of a Chinese army training program you must reckon with the time element.

How many trained divisions does China need, and can they be produced in time to turn the tide against the Chinese communists?

I asked Gen. Sun Li-Jen, in command of all Chinese army training bases, how many well-trained divisions he thought were needed to throw back the communist thrust.

The general said he knew the answer, but he thought 20 divisions would make a big difference in easing the situation.

How long it will take to produce these divisions, Sun added, would depend largely on supplies, which are extremely short.

They Defy Relentless Hoodoo: 'We'll Manage Somehow'

Shoulder to shoulder, the Lashes face the future amid the charred ruins of their home.

Do you think you could "take it?" Has war veterans William Lash and his wife, Ellen, of Willoughby, CT. Suppose, the idea, you were a survivor of the man-killing "death march" on Bataan. And of years in Japan prison camps, where you lost 90 pounds before being rescued near the end of the war. You return to this country, spend months in various hospitals, come out with 50 per cent disability. But with what energy you have, you tear the country, selling war bonds. You meet a charming WAC, whom you marry. After the war you settle down in a little home near the Chagrin river, O. Then last winter, the river overflows, wrecks your cottage and you lose all your possessions. All the next summer, you work to remake a home in nearby Willoughby, six weeks ago, because you are nearly killed from your suffering. You lose your job as a gas station attendant. That makes a pretty tough start for the new year. Then, the other day, hard luck strikes again. An all stove explosion burns your house to the ground. You lose everything—furniture, clothing, stored food. And you have two daughters, aged 16 months and 3 months. You and your wife manage to save the children, but are painfully burned on the hands. But you stick your chin out and say "I guess we're all lucky to be alive." And your wife sticks her chin out and says "We'll manage somehow."

—The Lashes—they're fighters.

Reporters Ruled Non-Professional

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—The national labor relations board ruled today that reporters and most news handlers on the Jersey Observer, Hoboken, N. J., are not professional employees as defined by the Taft-Hartley act.

The decision means that they are "employees" within the meaning of the act, and therefore are protected in the right to bargain with the Jersey Publishing Company through the CIO-American newspaper guild.

The board ordered an election within 30 days to determine whether the workers want to be represented by the guild.

The board took a similar stand years ago on newspaper reporters under the Wagner act of 1935, in a decision involving editorial rewrite men of the New York Times. A new determination was required in the light of the Taft-Hartley amendments to the Wagner act last summer.

Truman Asks Pay Law Streamlined

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—President Truman asked congress today to streamline the law which sets government salaries. This would probably mean raises for thousands of employees.

At the same time, the house expenditures committee said it wanted a law, too, making the civil service commission open its investigators secret files to congress.

The President based his recommendations on the annual report of the civil service commission. He said a change in the federal classification act was "long overdue."

January Traffic Deaths Decrease

CHICAGO, March 4 (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths dropped 15 per cent in January compared with the same month last year.

The January toll was 2,130, compared with 2,490 in January, 1947.

The National Safety Council, in announcing the figures, said North Dakota provided a "highlight" of its report by going through the entire month without a traffic death.

The council said this was the only time in its history that a state has had a death-free month, except for the war years when travel and gasoline were restricted.

Green Magic Of Plant Life Can Be Used

By ALTON L. BLAKELEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
OMAHA, Neb. 4 (AP)—The green magic of plant life now can be put into pills to give humans some cheap vitamins and "metabolic steak," and perhaps fight old-age, a Chicago physicist announced.

The green magic is chlorophyll, the pigment in plants that takes energy from sunlight and produces food from water and air. It's one mysterious essential in photo-synthesis, the basis of all life.

Dr. Boris Berkman, a well-known plant researcher, told the national farm chemurgic council he has devised a new method to take chlorophyll from plants in long-lasting potent form. It was developed after six years work in collaboration with his sister, Dr. Sophia Berkman, a chemist.

Tastes Like Fresh Hay

He showed green powder that tastes and smells like fresh hay. It can be put into capsules and has been given to animals and humans without any toxic effects, he said.

This green stuff doesn't dissolve in water, but will dissolve in blood plasma. It makes the blood green. Green plasma has been injected into dogs with apparent benefits and no ill effects, he said. Later it might be injected into humans.

Just one-twentieth of an ounce is as rich in certain vitamins and proteins as a pound of spinach, he added.

But humans, he said, may get little of the vitamin and protein values of some vegetables because they can not digest the tough cellulose linings. Grass-eating animals do this efficiently, using the proteins to make flesh, rather than chews and chops by humans.

Proteins Available

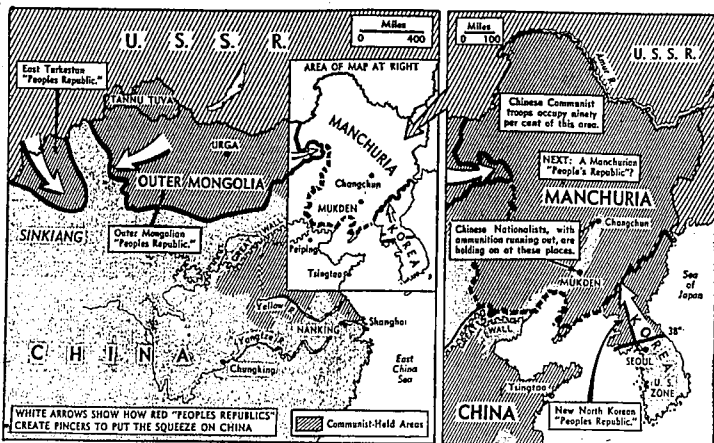

"We can make available to man the proteins of grass, alfalfa, and other green plants without the middle-man of grass-eating animals."

The new form of chlorophyll supplies a cheap and plentiful source of vitamins A, E and K, he continued. Vitamin A is essential for maintaining resistance against infection. E is the so-called anti-sterility while K helps control bleeding.

The chlorophyll, taken unaltered from plants, may help fight the ravages of aging, Dr. Berkman said. He expressed belief that chlorophyll helps living cells of plants to burn or oxidize foodstuffs in a way that might act the same way in human body cells if supplied in natural form. In this way, he said, it might help overcome the slowing-down of oxidation in body cells with advancing age, and combat degenerative diseases of old age, like hardening of the arteries, and obesity.

Such tests on humans have started only recently, and it is too early to report any results, Dr. Berkman said.

Red Tide Flows on in the Far East

Outstanding Republicans and Democrats agree that the state department's "China plan" which provides only for relief supplies for China, should also give arms and ammunition to hard-pressed nationalists. They force if the red tide of communism is to be halted. This map shows how that tide surrounds China, flowing swiftly, relentlessly, in some areas, such as rich Manchuria; seeping into dangerous places through the formation of "people's republics" that are puppet states of the U.S.S.R. Typical are the East Turkestan "republic" carved out of China's Sinkiang province, the Outer Mongolian "republic" and the recently announced "people's republic" in Russian-occupied North Korea.

Story of Three Bears Popular At Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 4 (AP)—Down here in this land of sunshine and sophistication, the most popular story of the day is that of the three bears.

The bears, night club performers, escaped from their cage while trainer John Weide was away.

Happily the shaggy natives of Pineland forest headed for nearby Biscayne bay and there they did what any other tourist would do. They went swimming.

Immediately a crowd gathered, so did the police. Eventually the bears tired of swimming and returned to the vicinity of their cages where they playfully chased people.

Joseph Ebner, the night club's property manager, tried to snook one of the bears into the cage. Recently, the bear bragged him by the seat of the pants.

Then Policeman John Ward decided the time had come for action. He shot the bear through the nose. The bear let go.

Weide came running. He coaxed his bear back into the cage.

Scientists Launch Effort to Settle Earth Bump Row

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Teams of scientists take off this week on a solar eclipse expedition to settle if they can a long-standing controversy about the earth's surface.

The issue is: Does it have big or little bumps on it (not counting mountains)?

The scientists also hope to get the most accurate data yet obtained about the planet's size and shape. Everybody knows that the earth is about 25,000 miles around and some 8,000 miles in diameter, and that it is slightly flattened at the poles.

But round numbers and approximations won't satisfy these investigators. Seven teams of them will observe the sun's eclipse by the moon on May 8-9.

They will set up seven stations in Burma, Siam, China, Korea, Japan and the Aleutians. Once on station, they will spend the time until eclipse day testing instruments and getting set.

Man-Made Rains Termed Practical

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Development of man-made precipitation now has reached a point where two pounds of dry ice costing five cents can produce 12 inches of snow over all the Adirondack mountains.

So says Vincent J. Schaefer, General Electric company scientist and weather researcher.

Before there can be further development, he says, man must learn more about the condensation of certain types of cloud formations.

In the future, he believes, the process will be beneficial to human welfare in its modifying effect on the prevention of hailstorms, alleviating of severe long droughts and other undesirable things.

General Says Idaho Armory Dearth Found

BOISE, March 4 (AP)—Lack of armories is preventing the expansion of the Idaho national guard from a force big enough to contribute its full share to national defense, according to Idaho Adj.-Gen. John Walsh.

There are 1,700 officers and men in the guard at present. To accommodate them Idaho needs 15 armories and operates a state-owned building at Payette. But Walsh said if there were more armories, at least 12 other communities would organize units right now.

Under Strength
The present guard is only about 200 men larger than it was during the pre-war period when it was to serve as a local protective force in event of flood, fire, disaster or internal disorder.

Idaho has been allotted a force of 3,974 officers and men, but it has reached only 25 per cent of that figure.

As a local protective force the guard can be considered "fairly adequate," Walsh said. But from the standpoint of offering a fighting force for Civilian Control Act and National Guard, the state provided 67,000 men and women for the armed forces in the last war compared with the exact 1,700 now in the guard.

No Ordinary Times
In ordinary times it would be enough. But these are the days of the atom bomb, the guided missile and the true curtain. There's a serious lack of time the guard to replace the old civilian defense setup, which was recognized generally as important to cope with disaster conditions. Expansion of the guard, in that light, seems more significant.

Walsh suggests the state develop a comprehensive plan for development in the state's only military force. It would be a plan that provided for more and bigger armories, with provision made for better use of modern equipment.

Such a plan, however, will take time, said Walsh, and until it is put into operation the Idaho national guard will have to limp along the best way it can. If a local community wants to organize a guard unit, it will have to find its own armory space if it can.

This Wouldn't Be Apple-Polishing, Would It?

When 1,100 AFL teachers in Minneapolis, Minn., went on strike, 25,000 children got a "tree" vacation. But it wasn't as much fun as they thought it would be. Charles Elmer, 12, and William Dickson, 11, gave their teachers, Lois Hofer, left, and Leona Egan, a helping hand.

Boyle Learns Band Leader Has Simple 'Big Business' Formula

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Dance bands are big business.

Guy Lombardo in 20 years has saved in with his notes "between fifteen and twenty million dollars."

His Royal Canadian Majesty's band is a very simple formula: "I play music people love like to him while they're dancing."

Lombardo likes to refer to his band as "the sweetest music this side of heaven."

But each year his band pulls in from $750,000 to $1,000,000, and Variety magazine estimated it topped all other celebrities in recording sales for 1947.

Lombardo son of an Italian immigrant, is a shrewd business man. He is a major shareholder in the Long Island Airline, which ferries commuters to Manhattan, and in two music publishing firms. He believes he has retained popular favor chiefly by sticking to his pattern and by avoiding one error that has killed off many jazz bands.

"I haven't seen one bit of change in dance taste since I first played the violin. The popularity of rhythmic music is permanent. Many bands are playing material of interest only to other musicians. We don't let that make American listeners are musicians enough to care for intricate orchestrations."

Lombardo has introduced some 25 popular tunes in his career. Each year he introduces 20 to 30 more of the 1,000 offered him by professional songwriters.

"I also get about 10,000 each year from amateurs," he said. "Most of them make the mistake of trying to put their own disappointed love into their lyrics."

What makes a popular song? "It's easier to tell what the public won't like," Lombardo smiled. "They don't like depressing 'I told you so' lyrics without what we call the ray of hope in them."

"A song can be sad, but it's got to have that 'we're-going-to-get-together-again' feeling in it. And involved melodies rarely get popular. College kids write that stuff."

Four programs will be presented Tuesday and Friday evenings of the two weeks. The first program will be sponsored by Idaho State college.

Jack Benny Fits Program's Clues

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Many listeners think they have guessed the identity of "the walking man" on Ralph Edwards' "Truth or Consequences" radio program, but the sponsors won't tell.

Many of the guesses now are that it's Comedian Jack Benny, on the basis of clues given in the show Saturday night broadcast thus far.

For one thing, these guesses point out Benny's hometown in Waukegan, Ill., and "the Waukegan man" sounds very much like "the walking man." Another clue was that he could be called the master of a metropolis—suggesting the character "Fochester" on Jack Benny's own show.

Another clue last Saturday night was the playing of a violin by "the walking man" and Benny constantly made himself about his violin playing.

But it's anybody's guess and the clues are broad enough to cover a number of other persons.

France's War Losses Minor Crisis Factor

PARIS, March 4 (AP)—France's manpower losses in World War II are only about one-ninth of those in 1914-18—are a minor factor in the nation's postwar crisis.

So says Pierre Jean Belian, spokesman for the veterans' affairs ministry, who judges more serious to France:

1. The moral shame of the defeat and occupation.
2. Economic stagnation during the occupation.
3. Physical damage to the nation's resources from bombing and shelling and having French soil fought over.
4. German pillage of French wealth.

In a word: France's ills are mostly economic.

Figures on the nation's human losses vary at the veterans' ministry and at the war ministry.

Belian's figures total 727,043, for both military and civilian casualties—dead, wounded and missing.

The war ministry's figures total 720,032. The difference comes because the war ministry puts 2,500 fewer than the veterans' ministry.

In any case, the more than 700,000 losses compare for more than 6,000,000 killed, wounded and missing France suffered in World War I.

All UAL Planes Now Using Radar

CHICAGO, March 4 (AP)—All of United Air Lines' 100 in-service planes now are using radar for safety.

Radar altimeters or terrain clearance indicators give pilots a continuous reading of the contour of the land over which their planes are flying. This is done through transmission of radio signals to the ground and reception of the reflected signals.

The devices contain a warning system that notifies the pilot if his ship drops below a pre-set minimum altitude for its flight.

The company said it met the Federal aviation board's original installation deadline of Feb. 15 which later was extended to May 15.

The Long Arch of Coincidence

ROMA 1942 XX ESPOSIZIONE UNIVERSALE

An architectural controversy is raging over the $14,000,000 prize-winning design, left, for the Jefferson National Exhibition park in St. Louis, Mo. In a letter to the jury which selected the winning design, Gilmore D. Clarke, New York landscape architect, declared that the dominating feature of the design, the arch, bears a striking resemblance to one approved by Mussolini for a fascist exhibition in Rome in 1942, shown on poster at right. Clarke asked whether "it is appropriate to perpetuate the memory of Thomas Jefferson ... by constructing a monument similar to one created to glorify 20 years of fascism in Italy."

Boise Parley Shows Taylor Control Firm

By JOHN COLLETT
BOISE, March 4 (AP)—Four years ago in the city of Lewiston on June 6 a slow-moving revolution began in the Idaho Democratic-parley. Ben Olsen H. Taylor then was just plain Olsen H. Taylor. He twice had won the Democratic senatorial nomination and he was in the race for a third try.
This occasion was the 1944 Democratic delegate convention. It was the time to elect a Democratic national committeeman. F. M. Blumline of Pocatello was elected over incumbent Carl Brown of McCall. Asher B. Wilson of Twin Falls fought out the battle for Blumline. Both were Taylor men.
Gains Strength
From that moment Taylor began picking up strength within the state Democratic organization. He went on to defeat D. Worth Clark for the senatorial nomination and former Republican Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen for the election.
Last Thursday in Boise, Taylor—who only three days earlier had bolted the Democratic party to become the third party vice presidential candidate with Henry A. Wallace—demonstrated that he still had control over the Idaho Democratic central committee.
The committee refused, even though it was in a negative way, to even consider any resolution or action that would have condemned Taylor for joining the third party movement.
Not Representative
It is not true that the action or non-action of the central committee was representative of the whole party. Democrats who were fighting against Taylor managed to introduce a resolution at the Jefferson-Jackson dinner the same evening. The resolution—a neck-and-neck-approved Taylor's bolt from the Democratic party and it had its desired effect.
Still the action of the committee itself was a terrific surprise to many Idahoans. But above all it showed clearly that Taylor has managed to win a lot of fences within the organization and that he has a tremendous appeal.

Same Group
No doubt the same fight will be carried over to the Democratic delegate convention to be held in Idaho Falls on or about April 24. Whether the anti-Taylor forces can make themselves be heard there remains to be seen. Practically the same delegation will be on hand there that elected Blumline in 1944.
What it all means is that Taylor has picked up a good many precinct committeemen in a good many key counties. The Ada county delegation, for example, is all for Taylor.
Taylor, of course, actively paved the way for his retention in the Idaho Democratic party. He promised to support Idaho's Democratic congressional nominees unless they were of the "Coulter-Crosett faction." And it must be said here that at the Thursday meeting the decision of the committee to take no action on Taylor's bolt probably was as much due to anti-Crosett feeling as it was a pro-Taylor demonstration.
